153 pints of blood

The Wilmington Blood Committee couldn't believe it. At the start of the Blood Program, Monday afternoon in the K of C Hall there were a dozen people in line, waiting to give blood. It kept on at that pace, all afternoon and until 7 pm.

Don Hill, chairman, couldn't believe it. He wanted to take an ad in the Town Crier, thanking the people of Wilmington for their response. The ad wasn't needed.

The person most responsible, he said, was Jo O'Neil of High Street.

She had been the hardest working person on the Blood Committee. Not that Hill was belittling the efforts of others, Fred Miller and Jim Hachey.

One hundred and seventy-one persons volunteered to give blood, and 153 were able to donate. There will be more bloodmobile drives in Wilmington says Hill. He is anxious that every resident in Wilmington receive the protection that is given by the Red Cross to a town which fulfills its quota in giving blood.

Robert Verdonck Cancer Chairman

Robert F. Verdonck, Assistant Treasurer and Branch Manager of the Wilmington office of the Melrose Savings Bank has been named the 1975 American Cancer Crusade Chairman in Wilmington. The announcement has been made by John Larkin Thompson, State Crusade Chairman, and President of Blue Shield of Massachusetts.

Mr. Verdonck is a Director of the Regional Health Center in Wilmington; a member of the Rotary Club of Wilmington, and a member of Mount Hermon Lodge AF & AM in MeAF & AM in Medford.

The Wilmington total has been set at $5,000.

Vote for High School probably in April

The action of Governor Dukakis, last week, in ordering that funds be cut has had its effect on the planning of a new High School for Wilmington. Among those things affected by the Governor's order is the (State) School Building Assistance Board, which has been ordered to delay its approvals for a forty day period.

The SBAB has in turn told 44 communities in Massachusetts that there will be no approval for the next forty days, but that those communities must continue their planning, even if nothing is to be approved until the moratorium is lifted. Wilmington is, of course, one of those 44 communities.

Walter Pierce, Superintendent of Schools, says that the School Committee is exploring all alternatives, and that there will be probably several possibilities for the voters to consider, when the Town Meeting is finally called. He sees the Town Meeting for the new High School as being sometime in April.

The School Committee, meanwhile, has resumed its practice of going to the various schools in town for its regular meetings. Last night's meeting was scheduled to be held in the Boutwell School, and the next regular meeting (not special) will be held in the Glen Road School.

Candlewood Village hearing will be in High School

The Tambone Corporation of Reading has filed an application with the Wilmington Board of Appeals for a public hearing, under the provisions of Chapter 744 of the Acts of 1969. The hearing will be conducted about a proposal to erect a 276 apartment building complex under the laws of the Commonwealth, specifically under the provisions of Chapter 40B as amended. The local bylaws and building laws do not apply in such a public hearing. Further, if the local Board of Appeals turns down an applicant under these laws, the applicant may then apply to a State Board of Appeals, and have the local decision perhaps rendered null and void.

The Wilmington Board of Appeals has set 7 pm on Tuesday, February 25th for the hearing, which will be heard in the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium of Wilmington High School.

The Tambone Corporation, in this case, is doing business under the name of Candlewood Village Associates. This is the name of the apartment complex they seek to erect on land off Woburn Street, and between the Ipswich River and Concord Street. Proposed are three, four and six story buildings, to contain 276 apartments of Low and Moderate Income Housing, with some of the apartments being without any such provision.

While the Massachusetts statutes provide a considerable latitude for a prospective builder of Low and Moderate Income Housing, outside of the local zoning and building laws, two members of the Tambone firm, Anthony Tambone Jr. and Joseph Wishcamper, have visited many of the boards and officials in Wilmington during the last month, seeking to make their plans clear, and asking for thoughts from the officials as to alternative proposals that might be made a part of the plans for the building complex.

Messrs Tambone and Wishcamper attended the Planning Board meeting on Tuesday evening, for an exchange of ideas. In answer to one question they said that if everything goes as planned they could be renting the first apartments in the fall of 1976, and the buildings should be completed by the spring of 1977.

This is the fourth such building complex, under the provisions of Chapter 766, in which the Tambone Corporation has started. It is the twelfth or thirteenth such building complex in Massachusetts, under the provisions of that law.

In some instances there has been little or no difficulty, and in other instances the proposed erection of the buildings has resulted in a considerable controversy. Tambone and Wishcamper are obviously trying to avoid difficulties.

They told the Planning Board, Tuesday night, that there will be 276 dwelling units and a Recreation Building, with swimming pool. There will be 326 parking spaces, or an average of 1.44 parking spaces per dwelling unit. This number was based on several combined computations on parking needs, and could be, if needed, amended.

There have been several meetings with the Wilmington Water and Sewer Commissioners, which meetings were described as "cordial." No final decision has been reached with the commissioners, but the estimate is that the proposed sewer which is to go to the pumping station on Avco land, will cost $525,000 to $550,000.

Tambone is ready to offer the money in cash, if the Wilmington Water Commissioners should propose their own plans for sewers, the Planning Board was told.

The file of papers on Candlewood Village, in the Planning Board office is about two inches thick, and is to be studied this weekend by each of the Planning Board members in turn, preparatory to next week's meeting.

Chairman Arthur Harding told Tambone and Wishcamper that the board will forward the plans and proposals to the Planning Board consultants, Thomas Associates. Hopefully there will be a number of questions from the consultants.

Tambone privately told the Town Crier that he is preparing to have conversations, at an as yet unnamed place, with neighbors of the proposed housing project. The meeting will probably be on February 12th and start at 7:30 p.m. The purpose is to explain the proposal to the neighbors, to exchange opinions and questions, and to make themselves known. The telephone number of the Tambone Corporation is 944-2800, if people want to know more of the proposed meeting.

So Don't Get Discouraged

The people of Wilmington at the present time are doing a considerable amount of soul searching.

People are out of jobs. There may be another depression coming.

The Town wants a new High School. It is going to cost a lot of money. There are more than a few who are not happy at the prospects.

Add to this the proposal to build a new sewer, to the high school, if it is located as proposed in North Wilmington. That sewer will cost $3 millions.

There is more than just a tendency to consider the proposed sewer as an additional school cost. Three million dollars added to whatever the school will cost is a terrific sum which scares a lot of people.

There are other ways to look at the subject.

The sewer plans are complete - not only for a sewer which will serve a new school, but a sewer which will serve the heavily residential area of Silver Lake, and a sewer which will serve what the Town Crier calls the Great Red Desert - meaning that there is an industrial area in North Wilmington which has never had proper water nor sewer services, and hence has only a little industry.

Water mains are now planned for the area, and there is to be half a dozen articles in the Warrant for the Annual Town Meeting for water mains which will service that area, and the hoped for industry there. It will be a good thing. It can mean a lot to the people of Wilmington, relative to the tax rate.

Industry cannot be induced to build in that area, even if it is industrially zoned, unless there is water. Having sewerage, too, will be a greater inducement. Look at Industrial Way, and how many industrial plants located there - the inducements were water, sewerage, gas and good communications.

The Great Red Desert has communications, and gas. It lacks water and sewer.

At the present scale, a new industry valued at $143 thousand would lower the tax rate $1. Ten such plants would lower the tax rate $10. If another Avco should locate in the Great Red Desert, the tax rate could really go down.

So Don't Get Discouraged.

If the present recession deepens, as well it might, there will be a considerable, indeed overwhelming pressure from Congress for make-work, as in the days of Franklin Roosevelt. There will be WPA projects, under new and different initials, to relieve the unemployment of this nation.

When Congress appropriates money for such a project, it will not be for the leaf raking of early Roosevelt, but rather for a project with worthwhile consequences.

Such as sewers.

Wilmington, with engineering plans already in existence, could well be in the front row for a WPA-like project.

It would and could be a worthwhile enterprise, for the government, and for the town.

Shop courses open at Shawsheen Tech

High School administrators in the Shawsheen Tech school district have been alerted that some thirty openings currently exist for seniors in various shop programs at Shawsheen Tech. The positions are provided to give seniors an intensive course in occupational trades to prepare them for the world of work upon graduation.

Spaces have opened up at the regional vocational facility due to the early release of some students and the involvement of others in work cooperative programs.

The emphasis on the program is flexibility, which allows seniors to suit their hours to academic schedules.

Room is available in the machine shop, culinary arts, phototype setting, key punching, secretarial science and various other areas. "This program provides seniors with a skill for an entry level job on the market" explained Benjamin Wolk.

Transportation will be available during normal school pick-ups or during afternoons when the Occupational Skill Program gears into operation, transporting students from sending schools to Shawsheen Tech. Seniors also have the option of providing their own transportation.

Although many vocational programs are geared for the general student, who is not contemplating college, Benjamin Wolk noted that the seniors program currently being offered is an ideal opportunity for the college bound students - both to round out their experience as well as providing a skill for part time work.

Those involved will also have an option to continue their shop programs during the six week summer program at the vocational school.

Seniors who are interested are urged to contact the guidance department in their respective high schools or to contact Bruce Perkins at 667-2111 during normal business hours.

SEN. MacKENZIE FAVORS MEAL TAX EXEMPTION

Senator Ronald C. MacKenzie has been recorded in favor of Senate Bill 1402 which he co-filed with other members of the Senate.

The bill calls for legislation to increase the exemption to the meal tax from one dollar to three dollars.

Senator MacKenzie said, "In a year where food prices have skyrocketed, it is increasingly important that the consumer be relieved of this burden by increasing the exemption." "After all, we are not talking about gourmet meals, the meals involved are those which consist of basic substance."

Emergency Modernization funds for WHA

A sum of money, not yet finalized, is being authorized by the Massachusetts Department of community Affairs for the modernization of the Housing for the Elderly project on Deming Way. The total will probably amount to between $100 and $150 thousand.

The money is being allocated to correct problems in the leaching field, septic system, heating and plumbing.

SEA Consultants, of 90 Canal Street Boston inspected the heating, plumbing, etc. on January 24th and made recommendations to the DCA.

SEA recommended in sewage disposal:

1. The construction of an impervious soil barrier around the perimeter of the leaching field, for the purpose of preventing ground-water-sewage from leaching from the side slopes of the leaching field. Site grading is to be in the vicinity of the sewage disposal system to eliminate the ponding of surface water runoff.

2. The rehabilitation of all existing electrical controls for sewage dosing pumps and furnishing of a weather proof enclosure for housing the controls. The replacement of sewage dosing pumps, and the replacement of chlorination equipment and controls which have been inoperative for years.

With relation to the hot water system SEA has recommended:

1. The replacement of all heating and hot water distribution piping buried between the buildings with insulated piping installed in Class A conduit.

2. The replacement of all valves, one inch and smaller, in the heating system.

3. The replacement of all domestic hot and cold water piping and valves located between the primary distribution mains within the building and the fixtures.

4. The condition of all curb cocks located on the service piping to the building should be ascertained and replacement of same should be made when their condition so warrants.

5. All existing domestic water and heating piping should be cleaned and insulated where necessary.

6. The existing water meter pit should be completely rehabilitated, particularly to provide elimination of flooding.

SEA recommends that there be a Clerk of the Works, and an Engineer, to oversee the work on the plumbing, and to answer any questions that might arise.

A Tewksbury policeman has been found innocent of obstructing justice in connection with a Wilmington case.

Woburn District Court Judge Francis Cullen found Tewksbury Ptl. Donald Ryan innocent of delaying criminal procedure. He had been charged with obstruction of justice by Wilmington Police inspector William Ballou as the result of a November 9 incident.

Appearing as witnesses for the prosecution at the case were Ballou, Wilmington Police Sgt. Herbert Peterson and Ptl. William Gable, and Tewksbury police Sgt. Phillip D. Bradanick and Sgt. Paul D. Johnson and Ptl. Walter J. Jop Jr.

Tewksbury Ptl. Richard Landers appeared for the defense.

Ryan was charged with pressuring Wilmington police while acting on behalf of a person arrested by them.

After Ryan was found innocent, Ryan said, "I stated that the truth would come out at the trial. I feel justice was done due to an honest judge, my attorney, Harvey Brower, and an honest police officer, Richard Landers. Officer Landers' testimony was instrumental in clearing me. He's one of the finest police officers in Tewksbury."

Ryan continued, "I feel the whole thing was due to a certain Tewksbury official who has been pressuring me for the past eight months."

He declined to identify the official, but is known to have met January 5 with Tewksbury selectmen to protest alleged harassment and a probe being made of his activities by Sgt. Bradanick.

Every other day there is a robbery

Every other day, on the average, at the present time, there is a robbery in Wilmington. Maybe it is in a store, maybe in a private home, or possibly in a manufacturing plant.

Wilmington is below the average being experienced in other nearby communities, and the Wilmington police hope to keep it in that position, if not to improve it. If the police could prevent the robberies before they occur the police would be happy.

Some of the robberies are observed, and not until later do the police find out that there was a witness. Persons who observe such things are asked to call the police immediately and let them know. The number is 658-3331. If it should turn out to be a false alarm the police are prepared to grine over it - but they hate to miss the real thing, when a telephone call could help prevent a robbery.

Last Friday, for instance, up on Hathaway Road. A man and a girl drove up to a home, at about 11:30 am. They had a husky dog. They went into the house, and made more than one trip back and forth to the car. They were seen. Noone took the number, noone called the police. It looked like visitors.

That man and girl took a TV set, some of the family silver, and some jewelry.

All the cops have are some clues, rounded up later - a chevy Malibu, green, with a black vinyl roof. New Hampshire plates. A husky dog, a man and a girl.

"BETTS BEST BET": He bet her that he could get him to kiss him (her?) by midnight. And. He bet her that he could kiss her (him?) by midnight. He won?

The comedy is one of three 30-minute plays in preparation by the Wilmington High School Drama Club for presentation on Feb. 7 and 8. The 7:30 p.m. performances will be in the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium at Wilmington High School.

It will appear along with "The Dear Departed" and "Just A Little Mistake." The latter will go to the Drama Guild Regional Festival in Stoneham to compete with neighboring towns in hopes of going to state-wide competition.

Footsteps of Doves
February 21 and 22

"The Footsteps of Doves" is the first of three one-act plays to be presented by the Wilmington Spotlighters on Friday and Saturday, February 21 and 22. Curtain time at the Barrows Auditorium, Wilmington High School is set for eight o'clock.

"Footsteps" is actually the second act of the acclaimed "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running" by Robert Anderson who also wrote the prize-winning "I Never Sang for My Father."

"Footsteps" involved a couple harried by 25 years of marriage. Their marriage and their bed have barely survived. The resolution of the play is indeed hilarious and a surprise ending tastefully climaxes this delightful play.

Featured as the silver anniversary couple are Quentin Risher and Irene Silverman both veteran Spotlighters. Making their stage debuts with the Spotlighters in the one-act plays are Jerry Robbins as the salesman and Linda Natoli as the shopper. At the helm of this play is veteran Spotlighter Jim Justice who is ably handling the director assignment.

Tickets are available from Ann Whitney or from any other member of the local theater group as well as at several locations throughout the town.

In the interest of promoting drama related activities in the community, the Spotlighters encourage people in the community to attend the high school's production of one act plays to be presented February 7th and 8th; the Spotlighters will be there to cheer the efforts of the community's young people!!

Wilmington drops two

This past week the Wildcats lost two in a row, losing a heartbreaker to Dracut 58 - 57 and getting annihilated by league leading Tewksbury 71 - 48.

On Friday, Jan. 28th Wilmington had to come from behind being down 14 - 6 after the first quarter the Wildcats rallied to a 24 - 20 halftime deficit. The Middies blasted Wilmington out in third quarter to lead by 11. 45 - 34. Coach "D's" quintet outscored Dracut 22 - 12 in the final stanza but the comeback fell short as a 15 foot shot was missed with only four seconds left.

Doug McLain was high man for Wilmington with 18 points followed by Bob Burns and Vin Scifo with 16 and 14 points respectively.

On Tuesday, Feb. 4th, the game was no indication of the score as center Paul Cipriani gave REdmen allstar center Dave McLeish all he could handle, when the dual was over Cipriani had clearly won 12 points to McLeish's seven and he out played Tewksbury's big man.

The Wildcats trailed 16 - 14 after one quarter and 32 - 31 at the half. Tewksbury started pressing to open the third quarter and soon Wilmington wore down and was behind 52 - 43 after three. The final quarter was a complete blowout. Tewksbury outscored Wilmington 19 - 5 to walk away with it.

Cipriani led Wilmington scorers with 12 points and Ralph Peterson tossed in 10. Chris Prince led all scorers with 26. Tomorrow night Wilmington travels to Billerica.

THE STORY OF: The game. Tewksbury's Chris Prince hits on two of his 26 points in Tuesday's game. Defending is Wilmington's Bob Dorval.

MEN'S ADULT SOFTBALL LEAGUE

All teams that were in the 1974 program plus any new teams entering this year should be in attendance. Among the topics to be discussed are: league format, rule changes, officials and scheduling.

anyone planning on entering a team should be there.

Wilmington Recreation Basketball

In an abbreviated slate of contests during the past week, the various divisional leaders maintained their edge over the rest of the pack. Only 13 games were played instead of the usual 24 due to the Expo-75 which was held in the high school gym over the weekend. The league will swing into full action this week with a full schedule in all divisions.

Men's Division...Ford (3-5) overcame an eight point third period deficit to hand Newhouse (5-4) a crushing blow in their quest for the league crown last Wednesday night. The purple and white quintet trailed 20 - 11, 36 - 30 and 54 - 46 at the quarter marks before exploding for 28 points in the final frame to provide the margin of victory, 74 - 69.

Ford had all five starters in double figures led by Steve Donahue (19) and Jim Maxwell (18). The other scorers were Bob Flores (13), Don Miller (12) and Jeff Sheerin (10). The league's leading scorer, Pat Simmons led the Newhouse attack with 19 points, while Dave McLain and Larry Bolby chipped in with 12 and 10 respectively.

On Thursday, January 30, Cold Storage (2-6) exploded for 40 second half points while holding Analog (0-8) to 21 over the last two stanzas to post their second triumph of the season, 82 - 32. Billy Gustus took game high scoring honors tossing in 20 for Storage, while Tony Butler and Jim McNally added 10 each. Bob Frongillo tossed in 16, fourteen of which came in the first half, and Doug Smith chipped in with 12 for Analog.

Intermediate boys...The front running Eagles (6-0) were forced into overtime by the second place Crows (4-2) before winning an exciting 17 - 14 encounter. Jim Marsh and Ken Hall led the Eagles scoring attack with six and four points each, but it was truly a team effort which made the win possible. Todd Driscoll was practically the entire Crows offense sinking 12 points for the black and white club.

Scott Braliska tossed in eight points and Jon Nolan added four to lead the Ravens (3-3) to a 16 - 8 win over the winless Gulls (0-6). Greg Frasier and David Strand played well on defense for the Gulls, but once again their offense was nil.

Intermediate girls...Saturday morning, February 1st, the Wrens (6-1) got back into the win column whipping the Robins (3-4), 16 - 6 behind the scoring of Megan Donnelly (10) and Kerin Taylor (4). Kathy Bailey tossed in a pair of field goals for four points to pace the Robins' attack. In the other contest, the Doves (5-2) overcame a sluggish first half to defeat the Blu-Jays (0-7) 12 - 4.

Junior boys...In the only twin bill scheduled, the Raiders (3-3) topped the Tigers (1-5) and the Colts (4-2) upset the Chiefs (3-4) on January 30th. The Raiders led by two, 16 - 14 at half time but a strong second half 21 - 16 advantage proved to be the Tigers downfall. Kevin Cogan led the victors with 11 points, while Bobby McCoy chipped in with eight. Freddie Olshaw and Dave Woods added six apiece to the Raiders' scoring. Timmy Moran took game high scoring honors tossing in 18 points for the Tigers.

The Colts jumped out to a commanding 12 - 4 first period lead and the outcome was never in doubt as Coach Fitzgerald's expansion club pulled off a mild upset, 39 - 34 over the up and down Chiefs. Dave Whitney and Timmy Driscoll led the Colts offense with 12 points each, while John Peters added eight. Gary Hastings continued his fine play tossing in 16 for the Chiefs and Tom Reed chipped in with 13, but it was not enough.

Junior girls...Last Saturday morning the East leading Bunnies ran over the undermanned Bees, 34 - 10 behind the scoring of Susan Rowe (22 points). Mary-Alice Woods added eight for the Bunnies, while Marieann DiGirolamo scored 10 for the hapless Bees. In the second encounter the Deers (4-3) moved with two games of the Bunnies as they tripped up the Bears, 47 - 13. Eight different players hit the scoring column for the Deers led by Maureen DeVita (nine) and Sheila Quinn (eight).

Senior girls...Then there were two. Following last Saturday's triple-header only the Crystals (6-1) and the Jades (6-1) remain at the top of the division. In the opening contest the Crystals ran over the Rubys (5-2), 27 - 16 with Brenda Burns and Helen Bailey leading the way with 10 and seven points respectively. Mary-Lou Simmons sparked the Ruby's attack with nine points.

The Diamonds (3-4) continued to show improvement as they crushed the Opals (1-6), 44 - 16 with Denise Dorval and Diane Cook leading the way with 10 points each. Ed and Bill stopped nine and eight shots respectively as they gained their fifth shutout of the season. Offensively, Ed Harding, Ray Durling, John LaLiberte and Jeff Brown were outstanding as they carried the play to the Wenham skaters.

Harding scored Wilmington's two goals, one unassisted, and the second on a smart pass from Jon Wiberg. The B's fired 29 shots at Wenham's goalie in their attempt to defeat the ex-Squirt A team.

The boys face some stiff competition in the next few games as they take on Chelmsford, Winthrop, South Boston and Haverhill. They will also face the winner of the Somerville-Wakefield game to determine the Middlesex County, District 10, Squirt II Championship as they head for the state semi-finals on March 1 and 2.

Refueling mishap causes home blaze

A home at 118 William G. Drive in Tewksbury was heavily damaged by flames and smoke Monday, February 3, after an accident that occurred while a man was refueling a snowmobile. Fire officials said John Tovey, owner of the home, was putting gasoline into the tank of his snowmobile when the fuel somehow ignited in his garage at 4:38 p.m. They said the fire apparently short circuited the motor opening the garage door, and the door opened allowing wind to whip the flames throughout the first floor of the home. engines 1, 2 and 5 battled the blaze, which was declared out at 6:30 p.m.

No suspects in truck bombing

Tewksbury police and federal authorities are continuing investigation of a bombing that destroyed a truck owned by Tewksbury Dog Officer William Lipp January 27. No suspects have been found in the case yet, however.

Police say a lead pipe bomb placed in the truck was aimed at frightening, not killing anyone.

Laboratory tests are being run on debris found at the Salem Street scene of the bombing, and local firearms dealers are checking recent firearms purchases, police say.

Lowell Service League of the Open Door Society

MEMBERS OF THE LOWELL SERVICE LEAGUE: Of the Open Door Society, which met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Gordon Webb, 11 Lake Street Wilmington. They gather supplies for war orphans in Vietnam and Korea, and ship the supplies to friends so as to be certain that there is nothing for the Black Market.

L to R: Cathy Reardon, Bym Ave., Westford; Betsy Pickup, Carmel Street Andover; Lynda Erickson of Burlington; Maryellen Zizis, Nichols Street, Wilmington; and Barbara Webb of Lake Street, Wilmington.

Their next meeting, on March 4, will be at the home of Helen Hoffman, 40 David Morris Road, Tewksbury.

Orphans in Saigon, Vietnam will be recipients of the food and vitamins being packed this month by members of the North Middlesex Service League of the Open Door Society. They met Tuesday, at 10 am at the home of Mrs. Gordon Webb, 11 Lake St., Wilmington.

In November, 100 pounds of used children's clothing went to Seoul City Children's Hospital, Korea and in January, supplies were sent to Vietnam.

The mothers pack the gifts, many of which are donations from area businessmen and numerous individuals interested in the cause.

The supplies are then taken to Lexington headquarters of the Food for Children organization which each month utilized donated cargo space to send clothing, toys, food and medical supplies from Boston Harbor to various points in Asia where the need is greatest.

Donations are always sent in care of a single dedicated individual to prevent their being diverted into the black market.

January and February's collection is being sent to Rosemary Taylor, an Australian nurse who distributes the donations to the nuns staffing Vietnam's orphanages, some in the more remote provinces seldom receiving help.

Anyone wishing to contribute supplies such as vitamins, baby lotions, children's aspirin, powder, disposable diapers, or powdered milk, formula, non perishable foods or used children's clothing can attend the meetings or drop them off at 11 Lake St., anytime. Contributions to help defray shipping charges are always welcome.

Some of the families in the Open Door Society have adopted as many as five overseas children.

Fred Cain Legislative Appointments

Rep. Fred Cain of Wilmington was appointed a member of the Municipal Problems Commission of the State Legislature, on January 27th by Speaker David Bartley.

He was also appointed a member of a Special Commission on Interstate cooperation, on the same day.

Wildcats clinch title

Coach Frank Kelley's tracksters clinched their first M.V.C. winter track title last Thursday by virtue of a 58-28 slaughter of Billerica at the Phillips Cage.

Things didn't start the way they usually do with Wilmington winning hurdles, instead McCully fell down and finished third while Joe Tannian took second.

Wilmington swept the 50 with Jim Busby winning (5.8) and followed by Bob Sfreaazza (5.9) and Chuck Methews. Tim Nee remained perfect in the 300 and high jump with a clocking of 34.8 and a jump of 5' 10". Steve Coville continued his fine performance in the 600, taking first in 1.17.7. Doug Spring broke a school record in the 1,000 taking second in a time of 2.26.3. Barry Foster and Len Daley finished first and third in the mile while Tony Gravelese and Mark Blaisdell garnered second and third in the two mile. Frank DePiano's heave of 45.2 won the shot put while McCully and Steve Napaulitan grabbed second and third.

A new record was set by Wilmington's excellent relay team of Nee, Dana Roueche, McCully and Coville in 3.40.2.

Saturday Wilmington didn't fare too badly in the Northern Area Meet. The Wildcats finished third with 26 points behind Peabody and Beverly. Rick McCully finished second in the hurdles with a time of 5.8. Jim Busby tied a meet record in the 50, taking first in 5.6 seconds. Tim Nee set a meet record of 54.6 in the 440 while Steve Coville set a new school record of 1.17.2 in taking third in the 600. Doug Spring also set a new WHS record in the two mile garnering sixth place in a time of 9.56.4. Wilmington's relay team set a meet and school record of 3.39.2.

CHURCHES

Worship service to be Bicentennial, ecumenical

The Tewksbury Interfaith Chorus representing the five churches serving the town, namely the First Baptist, First Congregational, United Methodist, St. Robert Bellarmine and St. William's has held its first rehearsal for its next concert to be presented April 13 at 7:30 p.m.

The chorus will be remembered for its most recent, well attended performance, at Christmastime and on Palm Sunday in 1974.

The group needs more voices, especially male, and invites all adults to join rehearsals, which are being held every Sunday night through April 6 (excluding Palm and Easter Sundays) at 8 p.m. at the Congregational Church, Main and East streets.

The rehearsals are under the direction of the Rev. Eugene Watson and accompanied by Mrs. Mildred Solomonson.

The rehearsals are in preparation for the town's Ecumenical Bicentennial Worship Service whose theme is "Faith of Our Fathers. Yesterday. Today and Forever."

This is the only Interfaith activity planned by the churches in celebration of the nation's Bicentennial, though each church is planning its own service and will announce dates shortly.

The Ecumenical service will be held at the Tewksbury United Methodist Church April 13 at 7:30 p.m., sponsored by the Tewksbury Interfaith Social Concerns Committee of the town's five churches, and will be free to the public.

Whit Pearson speaks on Russian affairs

Russian affairs expert Col. Whitman Pearson, speaking at the Wilmington Rotary Club last week, called for Americans to take a more thorough look at the USSR.

Col. Pearson, a descendant of Capt. Kendall Pearson for whom the Pearson Tavern in North Wilmington is named, is a former headmaster of Tewksbury High School.

SCOUTING THE BIG RED TEAM

In September and October, with the objective of completing my personal "Scouting the Big Red Team" project, I combined two separate group-tours of East Germany and Poland with individual travel in Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, and return visits to Russia and Finland. As far as I know, there are not many Americans who have visited all the nations of the Soviet Union as I have - from Siberia to Berlin and from the Baltic to the Black Sea. Most of the time I have traveled alone, apparently not under any direct surveillance, and rarely being taken for a tourist and certainly not as an American, perhaps because of my carefully chosen clothing and absence of tourist trappings.

During my extensive USSR travels I have been impressed by the many obvious accomplishments of the interlocked

Socialist regimes, especially the wide variety of economic, cultural, educational, mass-transportation, and industrial achievements. Also, I have been surprised by the convincing evidence of effective long-range planning, an unexpected tolerance of a viable church in Poland and some other countries, rapidly improving tourist accommodations (but still troublesome elevators and plumbing), and the development of a powerful manufacturing empire which poses a real challenge, over and above the increasing military threat, to a floundering Capitalist world.

As a long-time student of Russian affairs, retired Army officer, World War II veteran, and graduate of the Army's Psychological Warfare School and the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, I am certainly not oblivious to the undemocratic elements of the Soviet system, such as State control of "essential" activities, limitation of individual freedom, movement, and expression, one-sided Leninist propaganda, and political regimentation. My chief concern is with the overall effectiveness of the Soviet "team" in the deadly, increasing competition of today's world, and not with judging their amoral methods by our democratic ideals and (sadly watered-down) standards.

The American people have overlooked the basic elements in this continuing confrontation, and attach far too much significance to the reports of Zionists, Underground Evangelists, expatriates, and people who have taken a "quickie" look at the USSR on a brief tour or journalistic assignment. Most Americans can't bear hearing anything but continued "brainwashing" by the media regarding conditions in the USSR. Only recently are correspondents admitting that their "generalist" approach, geared to Secretary Kissinger's hectic itinerary and headlines, allows no time for in-depth and follow-up coverage of "every day" items and activities. On the contrary, my concern has been with transportation, cultural opportunities, schools and youth activities, propaganda, and the spirit of the people.

WIL YOUTH HOCKEY

Pee Wee: Scoring the winning goal late in the third period, the Flyers defeated the Kings 4 - 3 and moved into sole possession of first place. In other action the Blues subdued the Canucks 6 - 3 and the Sabers shutout the Seals 7 - 0.

Squirt: Coupling a high scoring attack with excellent goaltending and defense, the Braves outscored the Bears 9 - 2 and moved into a tie for first place with the idle Aces; while the Clippers squeaked by the Americans by the score of 2 - 1.

Recs crush Haverhill

The Wilmington Recs outshot the Haverhill girls by a 29 - 4 count on Thursday, January 30th enroute to a one-sided 9 - 1 triumph. Coach Backman's sextet improved their non-league mark to 10-3 with the victory over the VFW wrecking crew.

Joan Welch led the way with a three goal hat trick to bring her seasonal total to 15. Other goal scorers were Lisa Pellerin (two), Kim Wandell, Fran Johnson, Janet Zambarnardi and Sharon Landry. Assists were picked up by Cheryl Cushing (three), Welch (two), Pellerin, Zambarnardi, Mary Castaldo and Diane Pumfrey. Goalie Maureen Matarese was called upon to make three saves to bring her seasonal mark to 9-2-1.

The Recs continued their winning ways in M.V.G.H.L. action with a 3 - 1 triumph over last place Hudson in a contest last Saturday night at Nashua Gardens. The win was only the team's third this season, but the locals have now gone through two M.V.G.H.L. encounters slating a tie and a win.

John Welch led the way to the win column as she pocketed two lamp lighters, and Cheryl Cushing added the other goal, also picking up an assist.

After netminder Cathy Briston staved off two early shots from in close, Lisa Pellerin opened the scoring at 2:02 of the first period. Janet Zambarnardi let a slapshot go from the point, and Lisa whacked in the rebound of the shot.

Welch then scored her two goals at 6:57 of the opening frame and 7:09 of period two to up Wilmington's lead to 3 - 0.

Hudson spoiled Bristol's bid for a shut out with a fluke goal at 6:59 of the final period of play.

Coach Backman's club out shot the Kittyhawks, 18 - 14.

The girls return to action tonight as they face off against North Reading at the Billerica Forum. Game time is listed for six o'clock.

In the previous three meetings each club has won once with the other contest resulting in a scoreless tie.

Saturday evening the Recs take on tough Chelmsford in a key MVGHL encounter at the Nashua Gardens with face off scheduled for 5 pm. Coach Backman's girls do not rest for long as they travel to Haverhill Sunday afternoon for a 12 o'clock game at the Haverhill High rink.

New Dump Plans irk Woburn Residents

Several years ago, after a lot of study, a Dump Committee in Andover proposed two sites for the town to have a public dump. One site was near Ballardvale, and the other near the Wilmington line and Camp Forty Acres in Wilmington.

The one near the Wilmington line was most distant from human habitation. It was in the area of a former gravel pit, which had been graded and nicely seeded, but motor cycles were cutting up the soil even before the plants could get started. The nearest resident was probably about half a mile away.

The Andover residents in the area decided they wanted no part of a public dump, and they raised such a ruckus that the Town Meeting voted with them. Andover now trucks its rubbish out of town. The cost is reported to be an additional $300 thousand a year.

Now Wilmington is proposing a public dump, near the North Woburn line. There is a furor in that part of that city.

The dump would be on one side of a big hill. The Woburn residents live on the other side. According to the Town Engineer of Wilmington there are no Woburn homes adjacent to the proposed dump.

The Woburn residents come from two parts of that city, along Main Street and along Winter Street. Main Street is a continuation of Route 38, which goes southward past Route 128. Winter Street, more westerly, is in part near the Burlington Dam, which flooded Weeping Hill and nearby homes in Wilmington, and some of the homes along Winter Street got even worse treatment.

A woodland road, newly cut, leads near the town line towards Main Street, and along the side of that hill. Among things which have happened because of that woodland road is that now there is no easy access to Cold Spring. The waters of Cold Spring have been flowing for centuries from that hillside, and to the Ipswich River, through, in part, the present town dump, owned and operated by Clarence Spinazola.

The State Board of Health has ruled that the Spinazola dump must be closed. It must be remarked that he has been a very careful operator of his dump.

Contrary to the opinion of the Wilmington Town Engineer, a Woburn Daily Times article, last weekend declared that four homes in Woburn are in close proximity to the proposed Wilmington dump, and that there are many others in the general area, including the area near Winter Street.

Thomas Macario, who lives at 110 Main Street in Woburn, describes himself as an abettor to the proposed 29 acre dump. He complains that Wilmington has not notified him of public hearings. (There have been no real public hearings, Ed. There have been reports at which the Selectmen were present, and last Thursday there was a discussion of the article proposing the dump, in the Finance Committee hearing.)

Macario told the Times that there would be odors, insects, micro-organisms and animals in that dump. He added it would change the real estate values in the area.

The proposed dump is to be the subject of a town vote, in the coming Town Meeting in March. $300,000 is being asked for, with which to build a fence around the dump, a water pumping station, a transfer station and a weighing device, among other items.

The dump is proposed to be owned by the town, but operated by a private contractor.

DESTROYED BUILDING: A spectacular fire, at the race track on the Clarke Farm, in North Wilmington, last Friday, completely destroyed a building. It is believed to have started from defective wiring.

Radcliffe Estates proposed

The Wilmington Planning Board is at present studying a proposal for a real estate development, to be located off Federal Street near the Maple Meadow Brook.

It is probably the fourth proposal for real estate developments on the site. Two or more proposals, which were turned down, were for 16 houselots. The last, by Atty. Eugene Tougas was for two houselots, one large and one small.

The engineer for the latest proposal is Arthur Fosse, of Lowell, and the attorney for Wilmington is Joseph Courtney. Fosse spent over an hour, Tuesday night, discussing the engineering with members of the Planning Board. He is planning 14 houselots on the twenty-five acres - some of the land is in the flood plain.

One lot which was discussed is that on Federal Street which is nearest to Maple Meadow Brook. Fosse told the Planning Board that he was willing to "work 100%" with the owner of that lot in combatting the periodical flooding that takes place. He has plans for a "build up" of a proposed road to go in back.

The Planning Board's previous rule of streets not being longer than 600 feet, if there be no connection with "circulation" to another street was also discussed. It was Robert Leahy who started the discussion, and after some time and talk Fosse asked if the Planning Board goal was to stop development. Leahy did not answer, but Lou Maglio of the Planning Board spoke up to say "No."

A preliminary discussion of the plans is scheduled for March 4th.
